Advance Earned Income Credit tax records to be Expired

The “Education Jobs and Medicaid Assistance Act of 2010” that was signed into law August 10, 2010, repealed the Advance EITC. Effective January 1, 2011, employers could no longer advance a portion of the earned income tax credit (EITC) to the employees via their paychecks.

Early in January 2011 all individual Advance EIC (AEIC) tax records should have been expired by agencies, but many were not. Therefore, prior to November 1, 2011, MMRS will run a program to expire any remaining active AEIC tax records.

Note: No AEIC deductions were taken in calendar year 2011.

Eligible individuals will still be able to claim the EITC on their income tax return (Form 1040 or 1040A – U.S. Individual Income Tax Return) at the end of the year.

If you need specific information regarding your affected personnel, MMRS will have a report that lists the records that were expired. The list includes agency number, PID, and AEIC effective date; names and social security numbers are not included.

If you have questions, you may call the MMRS Call Center at 601-359-1343 or send an email to MASH@dfa.state.ms.us.
